LOCATION AND HISTORY.

The College is at Clinton, on the Alabama and Vicksburg railroad, nine miles west of Jackson, thirty-five miles east of Vicksburg, and two miles north of McRaven Station on the "Little J." railroad. In the early history of the State, Clinton was a fine business point and many prosperous people had their homes here. The village is worthy of its ancient name, Mt. Salus, or Hill of Health. In 1826 the citizens established a college, under control of their own Board of Trustees; later it was committed to the Presbyterian denomination. The Presbyterians having given it up, it was in 1850 committed to the Baptists.

At the breakingout of the war between the States, excellent buildings had been erected and considerable endowment subscribed, but at the close of the war the College was left not only without endowment, but with a debt of near $10,000. Under the presidency, however, of Dr. Walter Hillman, the buildings were repaired and the work of resuscitation begun. By indomitable energy, Prof. M. T. Martin raised from our impoverished people the means to cancel the debt.

In 1872 Dr. W. S. Webb became the president. Under his wise administration of eighteen years, with the co-operation of a self-sacrificing faculty and with but meager resources, the College constantly grew in power, in usefulness, and in favor with the people.

In 1890 the American Baptist Education Society proposed to give the College $7,500 for endowment if the trustees would raise $50,000. Rev. J. B. Gambrell was asked to undertake the work. He succeeded in collecting $35,301.29, and the Society paid $5,281.50, making $40,582.79. This is the amount of our invested endowment. It is hoped that the denomination will soon raise the amount to at least $100,000.

In 1891 Dr. Webb resigned the presidency and was succeeded by his son-in-law, Rev. R. A. Venable, D. D., under whose administration of four years the College was largely patronized.

Upon Dr. Venable's resignation, Dr. J. W. Provine was elected chairman of the faculty; after two years he was made president. During his administration important and extensive improvements were made on the buildings, grounds and apparatus. At the close of his second year, the trustees reported to the Convention that the income from endowment, rents and fees had been sufficient to pay all expenses for the year and leave a small balance.

In the summer of 1897, however, yellow fever appeared on our Gulf coast; from there it reached Edwards, and from Edwards it reached Clinton. The fever lingered until December. All the other male schools of the State opened about the middle of November, but at that time no one could tell when it would be possible to open at Clinton. Thus the students scattered and the College was left almost without patronage. Through the efforts of Rev. W. T. Lowrey, then the president of Blue Mountain Female College, over $3,300 was raised, and by the professors' making heavy sacrifices, the crisis was passed. At the close of that session, however, Dr. Provine resigned his position as president. The trustees set their hearts upon Rev. W. T. Lowrey as his successor. On the 16th of July, during the session of the Convention at Brookhaven, he accepted their unanimous election. Many influences were set to work to make his first session a conspicuous success. Words of encouragement and hope were heard in every part of the State, but alas! before the session opened, yellow fever again appeared in the State. It reached Jackson, nine miles east of Clinton, and Edwards, seventeen miles west, and was, through mistake, reported in the New Orleans and Memphis papers as being in Clinton again. The opening had to be postponed until November 9, and again our students scattered, many of them going out of the State, many of them entering high schools in the interior, and many deciding to stay out of school for the year. Yet in spite of the fact that we had so small a list of the previous session to draw from, there was a decided advance in the patronage. Again an appeal was made for help, and again the amount of about $3,300 was contributed. The next session was a success. In spite of the fact that yellow fever broke out in Jackson ten days before the session opened and remained there for ten or twelve weeks, we leaped from an enrollment of 144 the past session to 231 that session. This session the enrollment has gone to 285, which is 26 more than were ever before enrolled in one session. If an institution can meet and pass such crises as have come to our College, and can spring back so readily to success and prosperity, surely our people ought to rally with undaunted courage and feel assured that a glorious future awaits us.

OWNERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT.

The College is owned by a board of trustees consisting of twenty-seven members, elected by the Mississippi Baptist Convention. The term of nine of these trustees expires every year, and their places are filled by election at the annual meeting of the Convention. This enables the Baptists of the State to change the entire board every three years if they wish to do so.

The board has two regular meetings every year, one during the annual commencement exercises of the College, and one at the annual meeting of the State Convention.

DESIGN.

This is not a theological school. It is not a school specially for young preachers. True, a great many preachers are educated here, but about five-sixth of our students expect to pursue other callings. We have sent out men from this College to be governors, judges, congressmen, physicians, lawyers, merchants, farmers, educators, etc. We try to develop and discipline minds. We teach language, literature, mathematics, philosophy. We have a course of Bible study, but we give it to the other students as well as to the young preachers. It is only one of the studies in the course. The purpose of the College is to make men—intelligent men, strong men, men who can think and express their thoughts. And we are very anxious that all our students shall be Christian men. We want our young preachers to take their college course here, and then, if possible, attend our theological seminary. But the design of this College is to give a thorough course of college training and to develop men; men for all the honorable callings of life, who in those callings will exert a noble Christian influence. We welcome all boys who wish to become strong and noble men, whatever calling they may have in view.

AN ARGUMENT.

Young men occasionally say: "Well, I expect to be a lawyer and maybe a statesman, and I think I would better go to the State University." Now, young man, which is best, to have the influence of two schools back of you, or one? Well, then, how would it do to take a literary course with us and your law course at the University, and then have two schools back of you? We have nothing to say against the University; it is a great school, but so is Mississippi College, and if you come here, we do not believe you will regret it.

YELLOW FEVER.

There had never been a case of yellow fever in the town of Clinton until 1897, and then it was brought here by one of our townspeople who had been exposed to it elsewhere and did not know it until it was too late. But it was never here before, was in a very mild form then, and has not been here since.

In 1878, on account of its presence elsewhere in the State, the opening of the session had to be postponed until November, but it was then eighteen years before the opening of another session had to be postponed on account of yellow fever. You would as well be afraid of any other point in Mississippi, as to be afraid of Clinton. Yellow fever has never been here but once.

THE FUTURE.

There seems to be now many indications that the College is on an upward move and that the future will be bright.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

The applicant for admission will be examined as to his previous attainments and will be expected to furnish testimony that he sustains a good moral character. If he has been a member of any other college, he will be expected to present a certificate of regular dismission from that institution.

Each applicant will be furnished with a copy of the laws of the College, and after reading them, will be required to sign the following declaration and promise:

MATRICULATION PLEDGE.

"Intending to become a student of Mississippi College, I do hereby acknowledge myself subject to its laws, and I do further declare, on my honor, that I will obey the laws of the College now in force, or that may be enacted while I continue a student thereof, and that I will endeavor to uphold and maintain the same so long as I continue a student of the College. I also declare on my honor, that I will not have in my possession or under my control during my connection with the College, any playing cards or fire arms or weapons of any kind, nor any intoxicating drink, except under prescription of a physician.

Once enrolled, a student is subject to the laws of Mississippi College, wherever he may be, until dismissed or permitted to withdraw by the Faculty.

EXAMINATION OF DELINQUENTS.

During the two days before the opening of the session students who have, from any cause, failed to pass any or all of their examinations for the previous session, will be given an opportunity to stand them.

NEW STUDENTS.

It is very desirable that new students be on the ground a day or two before the opening of the session, that time may be had for grading or classifying them according to their stages of advancement and proficiency, and that attention and assistance may be given them in finding suitable lodging and boarding places.

DAILY EXERCISES.

Every secular day of the week, except Monday, each student is expected to attend at least three recitations or lectures, and on Mondays he is expected to prepare his declamations and essays.

PUBLIC WORSHIP AND OTHER RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

It is proposed in this institution to secure attention to study and correctness of deportment, not only by the enforcement of enactment, but also by cultivating in the student a taste for intellectual pursuits, virtuous habits and high-toned honor. It is our desire that religion, the basis of all true virtue, shall throw her healthful restraints over the student.

With this view, the public exercises of each day are opened with the reading of the scriptures, song and prayer. One night in each week a prayer meeting is held in the College chapel, which the students are encouraged to attend. Weekly prayer meetings are also held by the students themselves, within the College building.

We seek to make a deep and consistent religious sentiment the prevailing characteristic of the College community. Young men whose characters have been moulded under proper influences in early years, seldom go astray here. They are absolutely safe nowhere, but in our opinion a college will not be found where the average young man is safer than in Mississippi College.

SPECIAL ENACTMENT.

By special enactment the Legislature has prohibited the retailing of intoxicating liquors in Clinton and vicinity.

ABSTRACT OF COLLEGE LAWS.

1. Every student is expected to attend Sunday School and preaching at some church on the Lord's day.
2. Each student shall regularly and punctually attend roll call, chapel service, all his recitations, and other duties assigned him by the president or professors.
3. Students must obtain the approbation of the president in the choice of a boarding house, and no one will be permitted to change it without previous permission from him.

4. No student will be permitted to be absent from his room at night, without leave, except to attend church, or the literary societies connected with the College.

5. No student will be permitted to leave the town on any pretext whatever, during term time, without permission from the president.

6. No student will be permitted to enter upon the grounds or premises of other persons, so as to molest or injury property.

7. Damage done to any part of the college property must be repaired by the offender.

8. No student shall carry about him or have in his possession any deadly weapon.

9. No student is entitled to an honorable dismission from the college who does not regularly perform all his prescribed duties up to the date of his asking for it; and if he is a minor, he is expected to present to the president the written consent of his parent or guardian at the time of asking.

10. During the hours fixed by the Faculty for recitation and study hours, students must not idle or play either on the campus or elsewhere; nor must they be found during these hours at the trains, postoffice or stores, but in their proper places and at work.

11. Students are not allowed at the depot or postoffice at the stores now in the business part of town after dark.

12. Students must never be found out of their rooms after 10 o'clock at night except in attending their societies or some public gathering not objected to by the Faculty.

13. The playing of cards either for money or amusement is forbidden, and students must not have cards in their possession nor allow them in their rooms.

WITHDRAWALS.

Students who are not discharging their duties to the satisfaction of the Faculty, or who are guilty of misconduct not sufficient to demand expulsion, will receive official warning from the president, and should a student's bad influence seem to justify it, his parents or guardian will be asked to withdraw him from school.

BOARD.

Board in excellent private families can be had for prices ranging from $10 to $12.50, but boys are required to furnish their own lights and fuel and have their own laundering done. These amount to $1.50 to $2 a month, making in all $11.50 to $14.50. By month we always mean school month, or 28 days.

THE COLLEGE HALL.

At the College Hall each boy pays 75 cents a month for a place in an unfurnished room, and the two boys in the room divide the expense of furnishing the room. They take their meals at the college dining hall. The hall will be under a manager who will be allowed 50 cents a student for his work each month, and board will be given at actual cost, which will probably be $7.50 or $8 a month, or possibly less.

Each boy on taking up board at the hall will be required to pay $8 in advance to the manager. At the end of each month the manager will run up all accounts and report to the boarders the cost of board for the month. If the board has cost less than the amount collected, each boy will receive credit for the amount he has overpaid; if more, each boy will be assessed his part of the deficit. Boys who expect to board at the hall should bring a pillow, pillow cases, sheets and bed covers.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

W. N. TAYLOR, B. S., PRINCIPAL.

This department comprises a course of two years, embracing such studies as will qualify a student for the Freshman class.

To enter the Junior Preparatory, a person must read intelligently spell and write creditably, understand arithmetic through fractions, be proficient in elementary principles of English grammar and geography, and be well grounded in all lower branches..

The department being preparatory to the college proper, no study of the course can be omitted, unless he shows by examination or written certificate from accredited schools that he has already acquired satisfactory knowledge of same.

Junior Preparatory—Patterson's Elements of English Grammar, Wentworth's Practical Arithmetic, Civil Government, United States History, Mental Arithmetic, History of Mississippi, Riley Advanced Geography, Physical Geography, Physiology, Mental Arithmetic, Advanced Arithmetic (Wentworth.)

SCHOOL OF ENGLISH.

P. H. EAGER, PROFESSOR.

In this department the following objects are sought:

Knowledge of the language and its history, and practical skill in composition.

General acquaintance with the classic literature which it embodies, and accurate acquaintance with a considerable number of its masterpieces.

Familiarty with the history of the people whose life and spirit this language and literature are the best expressions.

Such a knowledge of literary qualities as will aid the judgment in discriminating between the good and bad and cultivate a taste for the most beautiful and memorable in literature.

ENTRANCE REQUREMENTS.

These are the standard requirements in English for admission to American colleges. Candidates for admission into the Freshman Class of 1901-1902 must have carefully read the following books or must read them during their Freshman year: Pope's Translation of the Iliad (Books I, VI, XXII, XXIV); Sir Roger de Coverley Papers in The Spectator; Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield; Cooper's Last of the Mohicans; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal; Scott's Ivanhoe;

Shakespeare's MacBeth; Milton's Paradise Lost (Books I and II); Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; Tennyson's The Princess; Coleridge's The Ancient Mariner; Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice; George Elliot's Silas Marner.

No candidate will be accepted whose work is notably defective in point of spelling and punctuation.

Let students contemplating entering this institution, and teachers preparing students for Mississippi College, take note of these entrance requirements and regulate their work accordingly.

Cheap, but well edited editions of these books are issued by nearly all the leading publishing houses, and may be ordered from the American Book Co., Cincinnati, O.; Ginn & Co., Atlanta, Ga.; Houghton, Mifflin & Co., New York; Scott, Foresman & Co., Chicago, and other leading publishers.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

Genung's Outlines of Rhetoric, Pancoast's Standard English Poems. As a study in American Poets, Nos. IV, VI, XI, XXX, LIV, CXIII, CXIX, of the Riverside Literature Series, published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Chicago.

Three declamations are required of each member of the class, and numerous written exercises based on the prescribed reading course.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

The work of this year is in Higher Rhetoric, Middle English and the Orations. Genung's Practical Rhetoric, Revised Edition, and Rhetorical Analysis. Corson's Selections from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, Ringwalt's Modern American Orations, and Wagner's Modern Political Orations.

Three declamations required of each student.

JUNIOR YEAR.

The Junior Year is devoted to Philology and a critical study of Shakespeare and the British Essayists. Critical papers, based on the reading course, are required, and two orations, delivered and criticised before the student body. Cook's First Book in Old English and Meiklejohh's History of the English Language with Champney's History of English for reference. Six of Shakespeare's Plays, Gates' Cardinal Newman, Gates' Matthew Arnold and Hobson's John Ruskin.

SENIOR YEAR.

The work of the Senior Year will be in Nineteenth Century Poetry and Fiction, and Literary Criticism.

THE CHEMICAL LABORATORY.

In 1901-1902 a special study will be made of Tennyson, Browning, Wordsworth, Emerson, Walt Whitman, Thackeray and Howthorne.

Critical papers, written on each author, and two orations delivered before Faculty and students for public criticism.

Corson's Primer of English Verse forms the basis of a study of Meter. 2 hours per week.

SCHOOL OF LATIN.

A. J. AVEN, PROFESSOR.

The aim of the Latin course is to give such a general knowledge of the civilization, language and literature of the Romans, as is necessary to form a part of a liberal education; hence the course of study in this school includes the language, history, mythology, and literature of the Roman people. A progressive method of instruction is strictly adhered to. A careful pronunciation in accordance with the Roman method and daily exercises in reading the Latin text are required, in order to so familiarize the student with Latin words and the arrangement of the words in the Latin sentence that he may as far as possible acquire the ability to THINK in Latin. As a means to this end, much stress is laid on reading easy prose at sight, and translating into Latin English based on the Latin text read. All candidates for the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science, are required to study Latin.

The requirements for admission to the Freshman Class embrace one year of thorough preparatory work. The course of study leading to the degree of B. A. is continued through the senior year. The course leading to the degree of B. S. is continued through the Sophomore year.

Senior preparatory. (5 hours per week.)—First Latin Book.

Freshman Year. (5 hours per week)—Selected Readings, Cæsar, Grammar, Prose Lessons.

Sophomore Year. (4 hours per week)--Cisero's Orations and Letters, (Harper and Gallup,) Vergil's Aeneid (Harper and Miller,) Grammar, Prose Lessons, Sight Reading.

Junior Year. 4 hours per week)—Livy, (Greenough), Horace, (Greenough's Epistles and Satires), Grammar, Prose Lessons, Sight Reading.

Senior Year. (3 hours per week)—Tacitus or Suetonius, Juvenal or Lucan, Plautus or Terence. Studies in the Literary History of the Romans.

GRADUATE COURSE.

A course of studies leading to the M. A. Degree will be assigned on application.

SCHOOL OF GREEK.

MURRAY LATIMER, PROFESSOR.

The aim of this department is to lay the basis for a thorough and critical scholarship in the Greek language. This school is divided into four classes and extends through the entire college course. The work of the first year is largely devoted to the gaining of a thorough and persistent knowledge of the inflection and formation of words. Accuracy in form and accent is attained by constant practice in written exercises, and correct pronunciation is secured by repeated drills in reading the corrected forms from the board.

In the second year the work is intended more particularly to strengthen and extend the foundations already laid in the Freshman year. The fixing of the forms and the simpler principles of syntax well in mind, and the acquisition of a well-ordered and somewhat extensive Attic vocabulary, are accordingly the chief aim; and this is worked for by reading and Greek composition (in daily and weekly exercises) based upon that reading. Along with this goes naturally careful explanation of all matters relating to life, manners, customs, history, and geography.

In the Junior year, the same method is followed. Greek composition as a means for securing accuracy in linguistic knowledge goes on as before. A wider scope is given to the instruction by giving more prominence than previously to the subject matter of what is read, and to the historic place of the writer, and his work in the literature.

In the Senior year, private reading is prescribed. For the past session "The Timon of Lucian" was required, and "The Letter of James the Just. Examinations will be held upon this work. In the class work, the literary and historico-literary side of the work is further emphasized; and an endeavor is made to awaken interest in the linguistic side by encouraging the practice of independent observation of linguistic facts and their effect upon literary expression.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR 1901-'02.

Freshman—White's Beginner's Greek Book, Xenophon's Anabasis, Ancient Geography of Greece. 5 hours per week.

Sophomore—Xenophon's Anabasis continued, Lysias' Orations, Plato's Apology and Crito, Prose Composition. 5 hours per week.

Junior—Thucydides History of Peloponnesian War, Plato's Phœdo, Homer's Iliad, Homer's Odyssey, Greek Prose Composition, Practice in Sight Reading, Jebb's Homer. 5 hours per week.

Senior—Demosthenes' De Corona, Euripides' Media and Hecuba, a Comedy of Aristophones, New Testament Greek, Sophocles' Antigone, Practice in Sight Reading. 3 hours per week.

GRADUATE GREEK FOR MASTER'S DEGREE.

The instruction in this course will be more comprehensive than in the under-graduate course.

Some extended historic, poetical, or philosophical work will be read and studied as a whole.

The following is given for the session of 1901-1902:

Sophocles (one play), Plutarch, Selected Lives (Life of Themistocles), Aeschylus (one play), Euripides (one play), The Gorgias of Plato, and History of Grecian Literature.

For reference in all cases—Liddell and Scott's Lexicon, Yonge's English-Greek Lexicon, Smith's Classical Dictionary, Hadley and Allen's Greek Grammar, Kuhner's Greek Grammar, Goodwin's Greek Grammar, The Irregular Verbs of Attic Prose (Hogue), and Goodwin's Greek Moods and Tenses.

SCHOOL OF MATHEMATICS.

J. M. SHARP, PROFESSOR.

Throughout the course the aim of instruction in this department is to develop the mind of the student in accordance with known laws of mental growth, and to form and cultivate habits of independent reasoning and of clear and accurate statement. Original exercises and problems, designed to illustrate the principles developed in the text, are required and contribute, in no small measure, towards making the instruction practical as well as thorough, and the student's interest a known quantity. The value of fullness of explanation and variety of illustration is recognized in fundamental routine operations.

In arranging the undergraduate work, attention is given to the logical sequence of the subjects, but the logical order is sacrificed where the exigencies of the case seem to require it, or where intellectual lameness would result.

While insisting that the best foundation for practice is a well-grounded knowledge of theory, the student is not allowed to forget that he "learns by doing." More than six hundred original exercises are required from the geometry class alone—to say nothing of similar requirements in other branches of mathematics.

Four years of mathematics are required in the B. S. course, and three in the A. B. course.

Applicants for admission into the Freshman class must pass a satisfactory examination in Higher Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra.

Entrance examinations will be held September 1901.

Candidates for admission into higher classes will be examined upon the work required of the lower classes.

Freshman Year—First half: Wentworth's College Algebra, 5 times a week.

Second half—Wentworth's Geometry 5.

Sophomore Year—First half: Wentworth's College Algebra 5.

Second half—Wentworth's Solid Geometry 5.

Junior Year—First half: Murray's Trigonometry and Wentworth's Surveying 4.

Junior Year—Second half: Wentworth's Analytic Geometry 4.

Senior Year—First half: Wentworth's Analytic Geometry 3.

Senior Year—Second half: Young's Advanced Course in Astronomy 2.

For the A. M. degree, with mathematics as Major study, candidates must pass satisfactory examination on the following texts, in addition to what is required in Physics:

Chas. Smith's Treatise on Algebra, Chas. Smith's Conic Sections, Hanus' Determinants, Greene's Spherical and Practical Astronomy and Young's General Astronomy.

SCHOOL OF NATURAL SCIENCES.

J. W. PROVINE, PROFESSOR.

M. LATIMER, ASSISTANT.

In order to determine the amount of work necessary in this department to lead up to the degrees B. A., B. S., and B. P., refer to the course of study given on page 27.

CHEMISTRY.

This department embraces general and practical chemistry.

The first year, two recitations a week in the Sophomore class will be given to general chemistry, embracing properties and relations of chemical elements and compounds, with frequent reference to pharmaceutical and medical chemistry. Great care is taken to enable the beginner to grasp the principles, and to this end two hours weekly will be given to laboratory work, to give clear ideas of chemical reactions and to accustom the student to handle apparatus.

During the second year, two hours per week in the Junior class will be given to organic chemistry, with two hours of practical work per week.

The third year is for B. S. students and those pursuing special courses, and is devoted to laboratory work ten hours per week.

The first term: Chemical manipulation, Blow-pipe analysis and Qualitative analysis.

The second and third terms: Quantitative analysis, gravimetric and volumetric, including water analysis, urine analysis, etc. Students are encouraged to take special work in this department, such as Medical, Agricultural or Organic Chemistry.

The Laboratory comprises seven rooms, conveniently arranged, lighted with gas, supplied with water, and well equipped with apparatus.

Text-Books—Remsen's Elements of Chemistry, Remsen's Organic Chemistry, Venable's History of Chemistry, Appleton's Qualitative Analysis, Appleton's Quantitative Analysis, Thorpe's Quantitative Analysis, and many larger works to be found in the library and used for reference by the class.

PHYSICS.

The first year's Physics is taught in the Preparatory department.

The second year's work is in the Senior collegiate class. The first half: Mechanics, Optics, Acoustics and Heat. Second half: Electricity and Magnetism. The student will be required to do all the practical work possible in this department.

Text-Books—Ames' Physics and Thompson's Electricity and Magnetism.

PHYSIOLOGY.

This science is taught during the first term of the Senior Preparatory class. A great deal of practical work is required in this study. The student is required, under direction of the professor or assistants, to dissect animals and then study every part of the body and its relations and functions. Much light is thrown on the subject by the use of thin sections with the microscope.

Text-Book—Orton's Physiology.

ZOOLOGY.

This science is taught in the first term of the Freshman class. One term is given to the study. Much practical work is required. Obscure points, and points of special interest are elaborated and elucidated by lectures. As in Physiology, much work is required of the student in dissecting, microscopic work, etc., to impress the lessons upon the mind of the pupil, and especially to lead him to investigate for himself.

Text-Book—Orton's Zoology.

BOTANY.

Botany is taught in the spring term of the Freshman class, five hours a week. Great stress is put on the practical analysis and classification of plants.

Text-Book—Gray's Field and School Book of Botany.

GEOLOGY.

This subject is taught in the first half of the Junior year, LeConte's Elements of Geology being used as the text. Collateral reading is assigned and the class meets frequently for discussion of pointe of special interest and importance. Excursions are made into ths country to aid the student in grasping Geological phenomena.

MINERALOGY.

This science belongs to the second half of the Junior class. Dana's Manual is the text used. The collection of minerals, though not large, is continually increasing. The student devotes weekly, several hours to laboratory work, attention being directed to crystalline and optical properties by use of thin sections and crystal models.

COURSES LEADING TO THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF ARTS

Those who desire to pursue a post-graduate work in this department, looking toward a Master's degree, will be required to do one year's residence work in the college. Major work will be offered in chemistry only; either of the other branches may be taken as Minors.

In chemistry a more extended course in quantitative analysis will be required, both gravimetric and volumetric. Following this the candidate will be required to make many organic preparations and analyze same. The latter part of the year he will choose some special subject and under the direction of the professor will prepare a thesis showing original work, and submit same to the Faculty. At least fifteen hours laboratory work per week will be required.

School of Psychology, Ethics and Logic.

CHARLES HILLMAN BROUGH, PH. D., PROFESSOR.

This school embraces courses in Psychology, Ethics and Logic, extending through the Junior and Senior years. The study of the phenomena of the human mind, the laws of its thought, and the principles and practice of morality is supplemented by a series of lectures on the History of Philosophy and a brief outline of Christian Evidences.

Although the class work is based on standard texts, and the object primarily sought is thoroughness; original research is encouraged and free discussion is allowed.

Psychology—Five hours per week during the first half of the Senior year. Davis' Elements of Psychology, Murray's Hand-book of Psychology, series of twelve lectures based on Ueberweg's History of Philosophy.

Ethics and Christian Evidences—Four hours per week during the second half of the Senior year. MacKenzie's Manual of Ethics, series of lectures based on Wright's Logic of Christian Evidence.

Logic—Five hours per week through the second half of the Senior year. Davis' Deductive Logic, Davis' Inductive Logic.

POST-GRADUTE COURSES FOR THE M. A. DEGREE.

Psychology—Weber's History of Philosophy, Porter's Human Intellect.

Ethics—Calderwood's Handbook of Moral Philosophy, Porter's Elements of Moral Science.

Logic—Davis' Theory of Thought, Hamilton's Logic.

Two treatises on each subject are required for a Major, and one for a Minor.

SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND HISTORY.

CHARLES HILLMAN BROUGH, Ph. D., PROFESSOR.

ECONOMICS.

Four hours per week through the first half of the Senior year. Bullock's Introduction to the Study of Economics, Horace White's Money and Banking, Hadley's Transportation.

This course is supplemented by lectures on the tariff history of the United States, and taxation in American states and cities. Topics of practical interest are fully discussed in the class-room, so that the student may appreciate man's acclivities in the ordinary business of life and the economies of the industrial age in which he lives.

HISTORY.

Freeman's freighted epigram, "History is past politics and politics is present history," breathes the spirit of the historical course, extending through the four collegiate years and compulsory in all save the Senior B. S.

The lessons of the past are given a present, vital application by reference to current conditions, and, from the outset, the student is encouraged to read philosophy into history by observing the law of cause and effect in Epoch-making movements.

Especial attention is paid to the institutional growth, constitutional progress, and religious development of nations, and principles are studied, as much as possible, in the attractive light of personalities.

Candidates for admission into this school are required to have a thorough elementary knowledge of the history of the United States and Mississippi.

COURSES.

Freshman—General History: Two hours per week during the first half session. Myers' General History, Ancient History, Myers' Eastern Nations and Greece, Leighton's History of Rome.

Sophomore—English History: Two hours per week during the first term. Montgomery's English History.

French History: Two hours per week during the second term. Montgomery's French History.

German History: Two hours per week during the third term. Lewis' History of Germany.

Junior—American Political and Constitutional History: Two hours per week during the year. Thwaite's Colonies (1492-1750), Hart's Formation of the Union (1750-1829), Wilson's Division and Reunion (1829-1889), Brice's American Commonwealth.

Senior—History of the World's Religions and the Christian Church: Two hours per week for the first term. Lecture course, based on special authorities and supplemented by the following texts: Towne's Bibles and Beliefs of Mankind, Hosmer's History of the Jews, Wellhausen's Israel and Judah (Art. in Encycl. Britt.) Stalker's Life of Christ.

The State: Two hours per week during the second term. Woodrow Wilson's The State.

Miiller's Political History of Recent Times: Two hours per week during the third term.

The above was the schedule for 1900-1901. A revised cirriculum has been arranged in which the history work is done in the Freshman and Junior years, 5 hours being given throughout the Freshman.

POST-GRADUATE COURSES FOR THE M. A. DEGREE.

ECONOMICS.

Elective Courses—

I. Andrews' Institute of Economics, Rabbeno's America's Commercial Policy, Taussig's Tariff History of the United States.

II, Walker's Political Economy (3d edition) advanced course, Laughtlin's History of Bimetalism in the United States, Dunbar's Theory and History of Banking.

Three treatises are required when taken as a Major; two as a First Minor; one as a Second Minor.

HISTORY.

Elective courses—

I. Ancient History—Rawlinson's Ancient Monarchies, selected chapters; Oman's History of Greece; How and Leigh's History of Rome to the Death of Cæsar; Gibbons' Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, selected chapters.

II. Mediæval History—Emerton's Mediæval Europe, Hallam's View of the State of Europe During the Middle Ages, Bryce's Holy Roman Empire, Adams' Civilization During the Middle Ages.

III. Political and Constitutional History of Recent Times, Duray's History of Modern Times, Fyffee's Modern Europe, Johnston's American Politics, Curry's The South, Fielden's Short Constitutional History of England.

IV. Great Movements in History—(1) Revival of Learning: Burkhardt's Rennaisance in Italy. (2) Reformation: Hausser's Period of the Reformation. (3) French Revolution: Carlyle's French Revolution. (4) Liberation and Unification of Germany and Italy: Busch's Bismark, Arrivabene's Italy under Victor Emanuel.

V. History of the World's Religions and the Christian Church—Legge's Religions of China, Art. Japan Encycl. Britt., Max Muller's What India can teach Us, Smith's Mohammed and Mohammedanism, Stanley's History of the Jewish Church, Hase's History of the Christian Church.

Either of these courses may be selected as a Major, and a part of either course is a Minor.

BIBLE STUDY.

REV. W. T. LOWREY, D. D., INSTRUCTOR.

A certain amount of Bible study will be required of each student. The following plan has been adopted: At the end of each three-months' term, the President will give to the entire school an examination on the twelve Sunday school scripture lessons for that term. By giving an hour or two each Sunday to the earnest study of the scripture for that week, a student can be well prepared for this examination.

In addition to the above there will be a special class for systematic Bible study. This class will be intended specially for the young ministers, but other students who wish to enter the class will be free to do so.

Students will be graded on their Bible studies just as on other work.

DEGREES.

A student on completing satisfactorily the Classical Course, receives the degree of B. A.; the Scientific Course, the degree of B. S.

The degree of B. P. is given the student who has completed studies, selected from B. A. or B. S., requiring the same number of hours in the class room as would be required in the B. A. course. In order to win an M. A. degree a B. P. must do one and a half times the work required of a B. A. or a B. S. graduate.

After taking a B. A. or B. S., in order to win the degree of Master of Arts, a student must take one of the courses given below, and more fully explained under each department, and must pass a satisfactory examination thereon. Only B. S. graduates can make mathematics or chemistry their Major, and only B. A. graduates can make Latin or Greek their Major.

The graduating fee is ten dollars and must be paid as much as ten days before the degree is to be conferred.

COURSE I.

Major—Latin.
First Minor—Greek.
Second Minor—English, German or French.

COURSE II.

Major—Greek.
First Minor—Latin.
Second Minor—English, German or French.

COURSE III.

Major—English.
First Minor—Latin, Greek, German or French.
Second Minor—Latin, Greek, German or French.

COURSE IV.

Major—Mathematics.
First Minor—Physics.
Second Minor—Astronomy.

COURSE V.

Major—Chemistry.
First Minor—Physics, Geology or Mineralogy.
Second Minor—Zoology or Botany.

COURSE VI.

Major—Moral Philosophy.
First Minor—Mental Philosophy.
Second Minor—Logic, Political Economy or History.

COURSE VII.

Major—Mental Philosophy.
First Minor—Moral Philosophy.
Second Minor—Logic, Political Economy or History.

COURSE VIII.

Major—Logic.
First Minor—Moral Philosophy, Mental Philosophy, Political Economy or History.
Second Minor—Moral Philosophy, Mental Philosophy, Political Economy or History.

COURSE IX.

Major—Political Economy.
First Minor—Moral Philosophy, Mental Philosophy, Logic or History.
Second Minor—Moral Philosophy, Mental Philosophy, Logic or History.

COURSE X.

Major—History.
First Minor—Economics, Ethics, Psychology or Logic.
Second Minor—Economics, Ethics or Logic.

SCHOOL OF GERMAN.

CHARLES HILLMAN BROUGH, PH. D., INSTRUCTOR.

In this institution, the use of the so-called speaking method of instruction is impracticable in consequence of the diffusion of grammatical material. The experience gained in the study of Latin, Greek and French, will be utilized in the acquisition of German, saving to the student much irksome routine indispensable in his earlier linguistic studies.

To the principles of general grammar already acquired, the student will add at once a knowledge of the forms of inflected German words, as a prerequisite to reading. Subsequently ample means will be furnished for the more thorough study of the language and literature.

The text-books will be the Joynes-Meissner Grammar and Joynes' German Reader, and selections from leading German authors—Schiller, Gœthe, Heine, etc.

SCHOOL OF FRENCH.

A. J. AVEN, INSTRUCTOR.

The course of study in this school is arranged with the view of imparting the most thorough and extensive knowledge of the French language and literature practicable within the time allowed. Commencing with the subject of pronunciation, the study is pursued by means of progressive exercises, the student thus acquiring by degrees the essentials of French Grammar, and at the same time becoming acquainted with the idioms which so strikingly characterize the French language.

With this equipment the class proceeds to the reading of choice extracts from the leading French authors, passing thence to the classical literature of the language, consisting of the works of Fenelon, Corneille, etc.

In connection with the work of reading, French words are studied with constant reference to their derivation from the Latin; and the French vocabulary is constantly compared with the English, thus incidentally exercising the student in comparative philology and broadening his views of language in general.

At the end of the course, the average student is qualified to read with readiness ordinary French prose, and with the aid of the lexicon and some study, to master the most difficult poetry.

Text-Books—Edgren's French Grammar, Fenelon's Telemaque, Dumas' Napoleon, Fortier's Sept Grand Anteurs on XIXe Siecle, Heath's French Dictionary, Super's Reading from French History, French Fairy Tales, Bowen's French Lyrics.

COMMERCIAL COURSE.

EDGAR F. ANDERSON, Professor.

The Commercial course is now free to all matriculated students.

The course can be completed in one session of nine months, giving two hours a day to preparation and class work.

In this course the performance of the duties of the book-keeper is shown by engaging in the actual work of the counting room from the start. In connection with Book-keeping and Commercial Law, the student who desires to prepare for a business career will also take Practical Arithmetic, Penmanship and Business Correspondence, and such additional studies as he may be prepared to enter upon.

MILITARY SCHOOL.

It is the design of this school to develop the physical system, to promote habits of promptness, regularity and obedience, and encourage economy in dress.

Entrance, as in other schools, is voluntary; but having entered, no student can withdraw from a company, except with the unanimous consent of the Faculty.

Each company meets at stated periods for drills of not more than one hour and goes on dress parade at the command of the captain. When the sergeant calls the company, cadets shall be in place, and "fall in" promptly. After roll call begins, none shall "fall in" except by permission of a commissioned officer. While on duty, chewing gum or the use of tobacco is forbidden. Guns must be always ready for inspection. Each cadet is responsible for his accoutrements, and must put them in the armory at the close of drill or dress parade. On dress parade cadets must appear clean shaved, with hair combed, full uniform, clean collars and cuffs, and polished shoes. Laughing, whispering, or any disorder in the ranks shall be reported. All excuses must be given to the sergeant before drill on Tuesday. The penalty for violating any rule, or non-performance of any duty shall be a squad drill of not less than ten nor more than sixty minutes, at the discretion of the captain. If the cadet becomes refractory, the authority of the College will be invoked to enforce obedience.

Arms are furnished by the State, and uniforms may be had at New York cost with freight added.

MILITARY GOLD MEDALS.

There are four of these, the Officers' Medal and the Company's Medal for each company. The object of these medals is to encourage the students more generally to avail themselves of the benefits of the military school of the college and to stimulate to excellence in the manual of arms. The contest for the Officers' Medal will occur some time during commencement week.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The two literary societies, Hermenian and Philomathean, are in a flourishing condition. They meet once a week for debate and other exercises. Each society posseses a well selected library, which is accessible to all the members. Members of the societies who have left College can render an essential service by procuring donations of books for these libraries.

TROTTER GOLD MEDAL.

This prize was established by the Rev. I. P. Trotter, now of Bardstown, Ky., of the class of 1881, and it is designed to stimulate students to cultivate the art of oratory. The contest for this medal occurs annually during commencement week, and the speakers who compete must be members of the Junior class. Their orations are to be original. The competitors agree in advance to submit gracefully to the decision of three of the five judges chosen by the Faculty to determine the relative merits of the several speakers. The judges consider especially the following:

1. Appearance and manner on the stage. 2. Pitch and management of the voice. 3. Distinctness of articulation. 4. Correctness of pronunciation. 5. Proper emphasis. 6. Tone and inflection. 7. Gestures. 8. Earnestness and naturalness in manner and expression. 9. Subject matter and composition. 10. General impression on the audience.

STUDENTS FOR THE MINISTRY.

Such students must be approved and recommended to the college authorities by their churches at home and by the Board of Ministerial Education. Provision is made, as far as possible, for paying the board of those who are unable to pay their own way.

TEACHERS.

To those who contemplate the vocation of teaching, the college affords excellent facilities. The demand for good teachers is great; in fact, greater than can be supplied. Here is an open door for usefulness which our best young men should not be slow to enter. There is no difficulty in finding good positions for those who qualify themselves well for the work. Large numbers of students with teaching in view, attend the college every year, and it would be well if this number could be greatly increased. The college will give every encouragement to this class of students.

NOTICE.

The terms stated in this catalogue constitute the legal contract made between the college and each one who becomes a patron of it. We seek to do our duty by the students who enter the institution and we hope our patrons will not ask us to depart from our regulations.

EXPENSES.

1. BOARD—Board, including lights, fuel and laundering, for a session of thirty-six weeks, ranges from $85 to $130. See article on "Board" and on "College Hall." Board is payable monthly in advance.

2. Scholarships—For $35 in cash a student may purchase a scholarship, good for one session, reading as follows:

SCHOLARSHIP IN MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE, FOR SESSION OF 1901-2.

This scholarship is conferred on Mr. — — ————→ in consideration of the payment of $35.00. It entitles him to attend Mississippi College until May 30, 1902, and frees him from paying the matriculation fee of five dollars, and the five dollars a month tuition. In case of honorable dismissal before the close of the session, the owner has the privilege of selling the scholarship to some one else, but in case of expulsion or suspension, it will be forfeited.

— — ————————

PRESIDENT.

A scholarship from Christmas to close of session will cost $25.00.

3. MATRICULATION AND TUITION—Students who do not purchase scholarships will be charged a matriculation fee of five dollars; and in addition, five dollars a month tuition. The matricula-

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE RIFLES.

tion fee is charged for receiving, entering and classing the student, and is in no case refunded. The tuition is due monthly in advance.

We prefer that all students should purchase scholarships, as it relieves the president of the work of collecting and is an inducement to the student to stay through the session. Yet those who prefer to pay the higher rate and take no risk have the privilege of doing so.

The word "month" as used in this catalogue always means school month or 28 days.

THE NEXT SESSION.

The next session will open Thursday, September 12, 1901, and continue thirty-six weeks. The session will be divided into three terms, the first term closing immediately before and the second term opening immediately after the Christmas holidays. Christmas vacation Dec. 22 to 30, inclusive. Next session closes Wednesday, May 30, 1902.

It is important that every student be present on the opening day and remain till the close of the session.
